Headline:
Sharp frost overnight. Rain and perhaps sleet arriving through Wednesday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Cold and crisp into the evening, with a widespread sharp frost, and perhaps one or two fleeting showers in northern coastal districts. Becoming dry overnight with light winds throughout, and gradually becoming cloudier in the far the west towards daybreak. Minimum temperature -4 deg C (25 deg F).

Wednesday:
Starting fine and frosty and remaining rather cold throughout. Becoming cloudier through the morning, with a band of rain spreading slowly eastwards, perhaps falling as sleet in heavier spells later. Maximum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Thursday cloudy and damp, becoming colder again to perhaps give some snow later. Friday drier but cold, with a risk of freezing fog. Further rain and perhaps some sleet Saturday.
